

STRIKE SITUATION REMAINS UNCHANGED

Labor Board Man In Conference
With Union Heads—Advised
Against Drastic Action

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, Oct. 27.—Ben W. Hooper, of the Railroad Labor Board, held a conference with the big five union executives today and at the conclusion said: "The strike is not settled yet. He said he was not sent to the conference by the board, but went of his own volition. He said, after the meeting, that he wanted it understood that he made no promises to the executives for the board or for himself. The Railroad Labor Board meanwhile marked time, with a meeting scheduled for this afternoon, with the question of whether they should issue an order forbidding the strike or attempt court action among possibilities for its consideration. A little later the unions also planned to hold a joint meeting. Labor leaders after the morning session of the board, indicated that there was no change in the situation, but one of them when asked what might happen at the afternoon meeting, said, "You never can tell."

D. A. R. PLAN WORK AT FRANKFORT MEETING

Mountain School To Be Maintained
in Floyd County—Two Chapters Disbanded

Frankfort, Oct. 27.—That the Daughters of the American Revolution promote and sustain the Memorial Mountain School at Hueysville, Floyd county; that each chapter regent appoint a committee to locate the graves of Revolutionary soldiers in her county; and that Armistice Day, November 11, be observed by each chapter, were some of the recommendations made by Mrs. James M. Arnold, Covington, state regent, at the opening session of the State D. A. R. Conference held here today. As state regent, Mrs. Arnold also recommended that the Daughters use their influence to have the children in all schools and community meetings salute the flag and learn the American creed. Delegates representing seventeen chapters and several visiting Daughters are here for the conference, which in point of attendance as well as interest, is one of the best ever held by the Kentucky division of the National D. A. R. Society.

The address of welcome was made by H. V. McChesney, who on behalf of the Kentucky State Historical Society, of which he is an officer, extended a cordial welcome to the Daughters. Mrs. Morris Gifford, Louisville, responded to the welcome.

In the absence of Mrs. William Rodes, Lexington, recording secretary, Mrs. Victor Dodge, also of Lexington, was elected temporary recording secretary.

Mrs. Arnold announced the appointment of the following special committees:

Rules Committee—Mrs. Jennie M. Chinn, of this city; Mrs. Sam Stone, of Louisville, and Mrs. E. D. Weatherhead, Cincinnati. Courtesy Committee—Mrs. John Chenault, Louisville; Mrs. Grant Lilly, Lexington, and Mrs. Gilbert Garrard, Louisville.

Resolutions Committee—Mrs. Cecil Farmer, of this city; Mrs. Frank Rainey, Danville, and Mrs. Lucien Beckner, Winchester.

In her annual report Mrs. Arnold urged the Daughters of the American Revolution to make this, their twenty-fifth State Conference, an occasion worthy of the highest ideals of the society, and prove themselves worthy descendants of their Revolutionary ancestors.

Mrs. Arnold reported that during the year two chapters, the Henry Claggett, of Shelbyville, and the Cumberland Ford, of Pineville, automatically disbanded, not having the required number of members. In February, the Limestone Chapter was organized in Maysville with Mrs. Stanley Reed as regent.

At the October meeting of the National Board, Mrs. Arnold reported that Mrs. Marion Lauderback, Augusta, was confirmed as organizing regent, and she will gather together the eligible women of Bracken county into a chapter. A chapter, she said, is also being organized at Morgantown.

The following chapters are represented at the conference: Elizabeth Kenton, Covington; Paducah Chapter; Hart Chapter; Winchester; John Marshall, Louisville; John Fitch Chapter; Bardstown; Frankfort Chapter; General Sam Hopkins Chapter; Hopkinsville; Fincastle Chapter; Louisville; Jennie Johnson, Paris; Bryan Station, Lexington; Susannah Hart, Shelbyville; Richard Clough Anderson, Lawrenceburg; Big Spring, Georgetown; Isaac Shelby, Shelbyville; Jane McAfee, Harrodsburg; St. Asaph, Danville; Boonesboro, Richmond; Lexington Chapter and the Logan Whitley Chapter, of Logan.

Mrs. Edwin P. Morrow entertained the Daughters at a reception Wednesday afternoon at the Mansion.

JOE BOGGS' WORK STEADILY INCREASES

The State's Highway Department will concentrate with federal funds available for next year upon the closing of gaps through federal aid routes already undertaken, according to Joseph S. Boggs, State Highway Engineer, who spent Sunday at his home here. Mr. Boggs is adverse to extending the federal aid mileage until present projects are completed, so that improvements, so far as they extend by the end of next year, may be possible.

The principal "gaps" in the federal aid road preparations now under consideration, and which will be pushed to completion, are three and one-half miles in Fayette county, four in Montgomery and ten in Carter county on the Midland Trail; 18 miles in Spencer, Bullitt and Nelson counties, and a stretch in Nelson and Larnie on the Jackson Highway; 10 miles in Meade, from Brandenburg to the Breckinridge county line; five miles in Daviess; four from Henderson to the Union line and 40 miles between Morgantown and Smithland, on the Ohio river road, and five miles in Laurel, north of London; three miles around Livingston and eight miles from Mt. Vernon toward the Madison county line on the Dixie Highway. Several small gaps remain on the Dixie Bee line.

When the Midland Trail gaps are filled in, there will be a fine road from Louisville to Mt. Sterling. The Midland probably will be the first route completed. All of these routes, except the points mentioned, are already completed or under contract. On October 27 five road contracts will be let, including orders for completion of the Ohio river road, from Paducah to Smithland.

BEREA COLLEGE MAKES MILK MAIDS

Berea, Ky., Oct. 27.—That all a girl has to do to become a proficient milkmaid is to be born in the country is being demonstrated a fallacy at Berea College. A course in dairying, open to men, but especially designed to appeal to women, is one of the features of the Berea curriculum which is guaranteed to turn a mountain girl into a dairy maid equally able to preside over a herd of cows, or to direct a butter making establishment. And the girls are not the Broadway musical show variety of milk-maid, either.

With its excellent herd of milch cows, its large dairy barn, and its wide range of pasture, Berea can give to its girls all the atmosphere and practice obtainable "down on the farm." Special emphasis is laid on the practical side, and particularly on conditions as they obtain on the average small farm in the country, in order that the girl leaving college may be able to demonstrate to the people of her mountain neighborhood how to take care of cattle in the most efficient way.

While some master minds have long felt that fudge-making and fancy embroidery are the heaviest work that should be done at a girls' college, the modern girl is doing things differently, and Berea's course of dairy work is practical enough to suit anyone. At the same time the completion of Berea's recently begun campaign for extra endowment and new buildings will place the facilities of the college within reach of hundreds more of the girls of the southern mountains. The work has been greatly limited by lack of accommodations for the girls, but additional girls' dormitories would mean educational freedom to many who otherwise could not secure it. The fund is to be known as the Berea Necessity Fund.

LUCIEN BURNAM IN BIG LIQUOR RAID

Carl Emert, a Fort Thomas druggist, was arrested Tuesday after five gallons of red whisky had been seized and evidence of a bottling plant operated over his drug store was procured, according to a report received at state prohibition headquarters. The officers stated that the whisky had been diluted and empty kegs and bottles that had contained liquor, found above the store, led the officers to believe that the whisky was being bottled and retailed.

Emert pleaded guilty to the charge of possessing liquor, but not guilty on the charge of retailing.
At Newport the residence of Sam Solko was raided Tuesday, and a ten-gallon copper still together with other distilling apparatus destroyed. Five gallons of moonshine liquor and 250 gallons of prune mash was poured out. Both raids were made by Agents Jerome T. Taylor and Lucien A. Burnam.

FARMERS' UNION STRONG FOR PLAN

How strongly members of the Fayette County Farmers' Union favor the proposed Burley Tobacco Cooperative Marketing Association was shown at a meeting of the union Saturday afternoon in the courthouse at Lexington, when it was decided by unanimous vote that a member call on F. R. Harrison, president of the State organization, to ask the removal from Fayette county of a representative of the union who is alleged to have urged farmers not to sign their tobacco with the association.

According to Charles Asbury, Fayette county, one of the national organizers has on several occasions spoken to farmers in Fayette county urging them not to sign up their tobacco with the association. Upon the motion of acting president, J. W. Smith, Mr. Asbury was appointed as a committee of one to see what steps can be taken toward removing the representative from the county, if not the state. It was decided that the executive committee would take up the matter in conjunction with Mr. Asbury. Practically every member of the union has signed up his tobacco with the proposed association.

MONDELL WANTS BLANTON EXPELLED

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 27.—Resolution for the expulsion from the House of Representatives of Thomas L. Blanton, democrat, of Texas, was called up in House today by Representative Mondell, republican leader, who asked its adoption. He asserted the basis for the charge is of such a character that it cannot be presented on the floor. Referring to the affidavit which Blanton caused to be printed in the Congressional Record as "unspeakably vile, filthy, profane, blasphemous and obscene."

Blanton, speaking for himself, defended his course and asserted that "no man who ever went to the scaffold had suffered more than I have." He declared that politics was injected into the controversy with a suggestion that a Texas Senatorship is at stake.

OPPORTUNITY PERIOD DRAWING NEAR

Candidates Are Working Hard
and They Are Bunched Close To Top—Every Vote
Counts Now

A candidate at the beginning of a contest is usually the recipient of more advice than the average outsider would imagine. It is easy to give advice. But this advice we are giving is gleaned from experience, and we know that the only way to win in a contest, or anything else for that matter, is to believe in yourself—and to back that belief up with work—for faith and work go hand in hand. The beginning of any undertaking is the hardest time, the time for the exercise of faith—your belief in your ability.

You have heard an engine puffing up a steep grade—it snorts and spits out steam and bellows forth black smoke and crawls slowly up the steep slope seeming to say "t-h-i-n-k I c-a-n—I think I can," but when it gets to the top of the hill and the wheels begin to revolve faster and faster, then the engine seems to say, "I knew I could; I knew I could."

The wise worker will take advantage of every opportunity to win extra votes. The wise worker will take advantage of the extra votes which are given until November 1st, and of the Opportunity Votes, which are given until the same date, November 1st. The wise worker will strive untiringly for the special prizes, for the workers that turn in the most cash subscriptions will be the lucky one in this campaign.

After just a short time of hard work and faith you are over the up-grade and your campaign is really and truly rolling along in a business-like manner, so take this contest just as you would any business and conduct it in a business-like manner, devoting your time and attention to it, giving it the same careful consideration you would your business house during a busy day and watch your subscription list grow.

The Daily Register is exerting every effort to give this campaign all publicity possible, assisting all candidates, having special men go among them each week and in every way lending assistance to all alike, so if you, Mr. Candidate, need any of them with you for a day, call the Campaign Editor, phone 69, and he will attend to it for you.

Remember there is just a few more days of Opportunity Period, so get in all votes possible until November 1st, as this is the last day of Opportunity Votes. Ninety dollars between now and November 1st will mean a big lead over your competitors, so take advantage of these few days left.

RACE DEVELOPS FOR COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD

In addition to the hotly contested races for the regular county offices, an effort is apparently being made to change the complexion of the County Board of Education. This board is supposed to be non-partisan under the school law, and the members of the board are voted for without regard to politics on separate ballots at the time of the regular election. There are five board members, but only two are to be chosen this year.

The members of the old board whose terms have expired are Dr. J. H. Rutledge, of White Hall, and Mr. J. Frank Hord, of Speedwell. Papers have been filed with the county clerk to put the names of G. C. Clark, of White Hall, W. H. Golden, of Brassfield, and Hugh C. Todd, of Speedwell, on the school ballots, also. Only two are to be elected and they are only voted for in the county precincts.

(Courier-Journal)

A bundle of sticks fastened tightly together was the symbol of the old Roman empire, which was the greatest and most powerful state that had existed up to that time. Greece gave the world beauty and philosophy. Judea's offering was religion. Rome gave the world an example of the efficacy of organization. Even the arch, practically Rome's only contribution to architecture, symbolized as powerfully as the fates
the dependence of one unit upon another and the strength which the group derived from the abher-ence of units to each other.

The burley co-operative marketing plan is nothing more than an organization by which the farmers of the state group themselves into a bundle of sticks, not only for protection, but for the ability to obtain for all what each man individually cannot obtain for himself. There is nothing difficult to understand about the marketing plan. It is a mobilization of forces, a gathering of men with common interests and identical aims, a highly effective army as distinguished from a scattered and ineffective force,
each man fighting for himself against an organized enemy and receiving no help from his neighbors.

In somewhat less than a month
the co-operative plan must go over the top. Between now and November 15th, 75,000,000 pounds of tobacco must be pledged to make certain the success of the movement. If on November 15, the burley association has in its possession pledges for 175,000,000 pounds of tobacco, it means that Kentucky growers have achieved the progress of one hundred years practically over night. It will mean that the state has opened the door to the knock of opportunity, and that the farmers have done themselves and their progeny
a great service.

It cannot be truthfully said that Kentucky in subscribing fully to the co-operative movement, will have done a bold thing or will have taken a breathless and uncertain leap. To take advantage of a principle thousands of years old and convert it into capital is not a breath-taking venture. Particularly is this true when it is considered that this age-old principle of organization is right now in successful operation in the United States, not only with respect to government, but in relation to agriculture.

Kentucky is merely following the lead of successful farmers in many parts of the land. It is being guided by such experts as Aaron Sapiro. The path is not strewn with dangerous crevices.
It is broad and true. Only the most deadly conservatism can doubt Kentucky farmers from stepping on the highway illuminated and made smooth by growers of various products in other parts of the land.

Kentucky is conservative. But it is also intelligent. The intelligent conservative never stands still. He goes forward. Pledges for 100,000,000 pounds of Kentucky's staple product already in the hands of the burley association answer effectively any doubts
as to Kentuckians' desire to progress. Those pledges are a cogent argument for those who are hesitating and undecided.

No flag-waving need be necessary to insure the success of the co-operative movement. It is a business proposition which is designed to bring prosperity to the state and contentment to its children.

It is there to take or leave.
If taken, the Kentucky farmer will not risk a year's hard work in the fields to receive whatever price the great tobacco buyer may see fit to give him for his product.
He and his neighbors, forming a solid phalanx, will be sure to get the best price obtainable. If left, the yearly drudgery in the tobacco fields will continue to be a gamble, a hazardous undertaking, and one cannot gamble with bread and butter of this and succeeding generations.

OLD TIME RAILROAD
HAD NO STRIKES

(By Associated Press)

Lexington, Oct. 27—There were no strikes on the Lexington and Frankfort railroad, known
also as the Lexington and Ohio,
the first "sill" of which was laid ninety years ago this week with appropriate ceremonies. It was the first railroad west of the Allegheny mountains and a portion of one of the rails is to be seen on the campus of the University of Kentucky here.

In March, 1830, Joseph Bruen,
of Lexington, exhibited a model railroad locomotive and created the belief that carriages and heavy freight could be moved by steam. In April 1831 a survey was made which showed that Lexington was 430 feet higher than Frankfort. On October 22 that year, the first sill was placed.

The "sill" was developed as a result of investigation by a committee that traveled to the east to investigate methods in use
there. In contrast with the present day heavy steel rails, many feet in length, short slabs of stone were quarried and dressed on one straight edge. They were laid, end to end, in parallel lines.

On this curbing was laid a flat iron rail, fastened down by spike driven through corresponding mortises in the rail and stone.
History records that the road
"went to pieces" before a trial run could be made over it. But the perseverance of the pioneer railroad builder was rewarded on January 25, 1835, when the first train from here arrived at the head of the incline plane at Frankfort, having made the run from Lexington in the then remarkable time of two hours and twenty nine minutes.

From this beginning, other roads were built from Frankfort to Louisville, Lexington to Covington, Paris to Maysville and Louisville to Nashville and others followed in due course.

While early railroads were connecting cities, the first street car system in the state was being built in Bowling Green. James R. Skiles and Jacob S. Skiles built a road from the courthouse
to Double Springs on Green river along Palm street. The road was mile in length and the cars were horse-drawn.

Studebaker

This is a Studebaker year

For the first eight months of 1921

Our sales of Studebaker Cars were:

41 per cent MORE than for the same period of 1920.

101 per cent MORE than for the same period of 1919.

But our sales of Repair Parts were:

13 per cent LESS than for the same period of 1920.

3 per cent LESS than for the same period of 1919.

While the total numbers of Studebaker Cars sold were:

326,000 up to September 1st, 1919.

375,000 up to September 1st, 1920.

442,000 up to September 1st, 1921.

Summing up 116,000 more Studebaker Cars were maintained in operation with 3 per cent less parts business than two years ago, which proves conclusively that—

Studebaker Cars are standing up in service and staying out of repair shops, to a degree unexcelled, we believe,
by any cars of whatever price.

Reputation comes in just two varieties—Good and Bad.
A Good Reputation is the hardest thing to get and the easiest thing to lose. A Bad Reputation is the easiest thing to get, and the hardest thing to lose.

MRS. HAYDOCK SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

Followed Advice of Her Druggist's Wife and Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill.—"I was in bed with a female trouble and inflammation and had four doctors but none of them did me any good. They all said I would have to have an operation. A druggist's wife told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took 22 bottles, never missing a dose and at the end of that time I was perfectly well. I have never had occasion to take it again as I have been so well. I work a six room flat and do all my work. My two sisters are taking the Compound upon my recommendation and you may publish my letter. It is the gospel truth and I will write to any one who wants a personal letter."—Mrs. E. H. HAYDOCK, 3824 St. Lawrence Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved Mrs. Haydock from an operation we cannot claim that all operations may be avoided by it, but many women have escaped operations by the timely use of this old fashioned root and herb medicine.

Instant Relief! Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and snuffling. A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three does are taken usually breaks up any cold.

The very first dose opens clogged nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nose running, relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" acts quick, sure, and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, contains no quinine—Insist upon Pape's!

A Primrose in the house is a protection against low prices for milk. If whole milk prices are not what they should be, separate your milk, sell the butterfat, and feed the skim milk. All Interest In The Richmond Daily Register's CONTEST Centers Around Opportunity Coupons

Ambition has raised men from lowest circumstances to the highest pinnacles of fame. This world would be a mighty poor place to live in, were it not for ambition.

The Daily Register Grand Prize and Subscription Campaign is for the ambitious, the thrifty and for those who are willing to put their spare moments to profitable advantage.

For the past four days we have laid stress upon "The Opportunity Coupons." All interest in this campaign from now until November 1st, centers around these coupons. We realize that for one to take advantage of the five Opportunity Coupons, amounting to 50,000 extra votes one must have ambition, energy, perseverance, and stick-to-it-iveness. It is a known fact that ambitious people who strive to reach the top of the ladder, while they may not always succeed, do land somewhere along the middle. Those who lack the above mentioned quality never climb higher than the first few rounds.

At the present moment the top of the ladder is the obtaining of five OPPORTUNITY COUPONS. If you try for five you will at least secure one or more of these valuable Coupons. If you try for one only you may not even secure that one.

The advantages of these coupons are numerous:

1—They positively possess the greatest vote value that will be given during the entire campaign.

2—They will positively be withdrawn November 1st.

3—Those obtaining one or more of these Coupons can rest assured they will have a comfortable lead over candidates who enter at a later period.

4—By informing your friends that you have succeeded in securing one or more Coupons, they will know you are out to win and will give you their support.

There are many persons who would like to enter this campaign, but who are a trifle timid or do not fully understand its details. Again we say, all you have to do to enter, is to fill out the Nomination Coupon, appearing on this page, and send the same to the Daily Register. Better still, bring it yourself and talk over the matter with the Campaign Manager, whom you will find ready to assist in any way possible.

The campaign is in its infancy; in fact it has not even started well.

Doubtless you have been keeping in touch with the campaign, reading all the publicity since the opening announcements. You should bear in mind that a campaign of this magnitude requires an abundant amount of detail work, hence our previous efforts have been devoted solely to preliminary preparations.

Now, "Candidates to be," remember there is yet plenty of time for ambition and energy to assert itself; therefore, take advantage of the Opportunity Offer and get an even start while "Opportunity Period" is on.

The campaign will be over in five short weeks, and 2 automobiles, 1 Edison and 1 Victrola, together with a liberal cash commission, will be awarded to those who have shown pluck and ambition and have helped Madison county's enterprising daily.

In conclusion, ask yourself the following questions:

Are the prizes worth making a determined effort to win?

Could you spend your spare moments to better advantage?

Is this not the most liberal offer ever made by a newspaper in this vicinity?

Stories of Great Scouts

EDGAR S. PAXSON, THE SCOUT WHO WAS A PAINTER

Col. Edgar S. Paxson was a scout who became a painter. He worked for 20 years on one painting before it was completed, and when the scout's masterpiece was done, it was declared to be the most accurate picture of Custer's last battle ever painted. It made Paxson famous.

Paxson was a New Yorker who went to Montana in the early seventies. He became a cowpuncher, hunter and trapper. When Chief Joseph led his Nez Perce warriors of their 1,000-mile dash for freedom in 1877, Paxson enlisted as a scout with the United States troops and served with them until Chief Joseph was cornered by the Bear Paw mountains and surrendered to General Miles.

After the Nez Perce war was over Paxson returned to Deer Lodge, Mont., and opened a studio. He has always wanted to paint pictures and he took for his subjects the things he knew best—cowboys, Indian hunters and trappers. Then he conceived the idea of a painting of the greatest Indian battle in American history—Custer's last fight with the Sioux and Cheyennes on the Little Big Horn.

For years Paxson gathered information about the battle. He went over the battlefield again and again until he was familiar with every foot of it. He talked with Indians who had fought against Custer, and he sought officers and men who had served with Reno and Benteen to get their stories of the fight. He learned everything he could of the position of every man in the Seventh cavalry on that fateful day in June 1876.

Paxson was engaged seven years in the actual painting of the picture. His work was interrupted during this time by his service in Cuba during the Spanish-American war and in the Philippines. After the war was over he returned to his work and the picture was completed.

In this painting Paxson showed the figures of more than 200 soldiers, Indians and scouts. It contained the portraits of 36 members of Custer's command painted from photographs. Every detail of the battle was shown historically accurate, so far as it is possible to know how Custer and his men perished. The painting has been on exhibition in the largest cities of the United States and it now hangs in the library of the Montana State university at Missoula. It is valued at $25,000.

In 1878 Paxson laid down the scout's rifle to take up the painter's brush. Forty-one years later he laid down the brush. Colonel Paxson died in Missoula, November 9, 1919.

BALLOTS FOR ELECTION WEIGH 64,000 POUNDS

Frankfort, Oct. 27.—The ballots on which the voters of Kentucky will vote for county and state officers at the election on November 8, if all were placed in one pile, would weigh 64,000 pounds, according to Secretary of State Vaughn. The cost to the state is $5,000.

The Secretary of State under the law, is taxed with the duty of supplying paper to the county clerks on which the ballots are to be printed. This paper must weigh eighty pounds to the ream. A total of 800 reams, each containing 500 sheets, 26 inches wide and 40 inches long, was required. All of the paper will be printed into ballots, but all of the ballots probably will not be used. The law requires that the Secretary of State must furnish ballots to the number of fifty per cent more than the total vote cast in each county at the last previous general election.

Although two counties might need the same number of ballots, according to Mr. Vaughn, one might need considerably more paper than the other. That depends largely on the width of the ballot, counties having independent tickets or tickets under other headings than the Republican and Democratic party, requiring a wider ballot than counties having only candidates from the two chief parties.

DON ALLMAN HONORED BY INDIANA ELKS

A Noblesville, Ind., paper has the following about Donalson Allman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Allman, which will be read with interest by his many friends here at home: Don Allman has been appointed district deputy of the Elks in this district. The appointment comes from Grand Exalted Ruler W. W. Mountain, of Toledo, Ohio, and comprises supervision over seventeen lodges.

The appointment comes to Mr. Allman from a list of applicants from several other lodges and is considerable of a plum due to the fact that this is the second time that honor has gone to the Noblesville lodge. The other man serving in such capacity was the late Dr. Loehr.

Mr. Allman is very proud of the appointment and feels highly honored. He will have supervision over the subordinate lodges and report to the head officials. The work necessitates his visiting all of the seventeen lodges in the district once a year and attending a yearly meeting of the deputies. This year it will be held October 15th at Chicago, and Mr. Allman is arranging to attend.
